TRUSTEES MEETING

TREE PLANTING REPORT—PEOPLE WANT PROTECTION FROM FLOOD WATERS

The regular meeting of the trustees of the city of Glendale was held in the city hall Thursday evening, December 28, 1916. Present, J. S. Thompson, president of the board, and Trustees R. M. Jackson, S. L. Muhleman, G. B. Woodberry. Absent, Trustee Chas. Grist. Also present, T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager public service department; Ed M. Lynch, city engineer; G. H. Herald, city marshal; A. H. Lankford, fire marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

An application was read from P. A. C. Moore for permit to conduct a dairy at 255 East Ninth street, which being approved by the milk inspector, was on motion of Trustee Muhleman, granted.

The weekly report of the tax collector was read showing collections for the week amounting to $556.22, total collected to date $35,723.21. The report was ordered to be filed.

The following demands were presented and on motion ordered to be referred to the finance committee.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the board proceeded to canvass the returns of the bond election held on December 19 last. The chairman appointed Trustees Muhleman and Woodberry to act as tellers to open and examine the returns. The tellers having completed the examination of the returns submitted their report, which was embodied in a resolution which was ordered to be read and upon being read was, upon motion of Trustee Muhleman, adopted as Resolution Number 929, showing a total vote of 304 in favor of the proposition and 479 against. The resolution further declaring that the proposition had failed to receive the required number of votes and was, therefore, defeated.

The city manager presented a written report in regard to the tree planting day, November 11, 1916, showing that 448 trees had been planted, staked and watered twice at a total cost of $109.82 or 24½ cents per tree, and in connection with the work of planting the trees the civics committee furnished sixteen volunteer helpers, five of whom live outside of the city, the total time of this volunteer service being 41 hours and 45 minutes, which on a basis of $2.50 per day amounted to $13.05. He suggested that another tree planting day be observed some time in March or April.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman the work done was commended and the report of the city manager ordered to be filed.

On motion of Trustee Woodberry the city manager was authorized to take up with the county authorities the matter of planting trees along Verdugo road from Oakwood avenue northward to the city limits.

The city manager presented a petition signed by thirteen property owners along the Childs Tract line asking for protection of their property from the storm waters of Sycamore canyon. In reference to this petition, the city manager submitted a written recommendation to the effect that the request of the property owners for protection work be granted to the extent of doing certain work along the Childs Tract line and that for this purpose the sum of $100 be appropriated. On motion of Trustee Woodberry the city manager was authorized to spend the sum of $100 as proposed, provided that the consent of all property owners along that portion of the line where the work is to be done shall be obtained.

The city manager reported having received a check for $600.00 from the bond holders of Verdugo Heights as their contribution toward the expense of the protection work along the channel of Verdugo wash at the Glendale & Montrose bridge and for clearing out the channel from that point to the Canada boulevard bridge and for further protection work along the banks of the channel; this being in accordance with a previous understanding that the city of Glendale expend the sum of $300 for the same work.

He also reported having received the necessary agreements in regard to this work signed by the property owners concerned—all in compliance with a former action of the board proposing such improvement.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, it was ordered that the money he received and that letters and agreements be placed on file.

On motion of Trustee Jackson it was ordered that when the board adjourns it be to meet on Tuesday, Janlary 2 at 7:30 p. m.

The manager of the public service department reported progress of putting in main line pipe. He also reported that the monthly report of his department just completed showed that it had made during the past five months an approximate profit of $10,000 comparing favorably with the profit of $15,000 gained during the twelve months of last year.

The city engineer reported the completion of the work of the improvement of Glendale avenue and that the improvement of the work on Canada boulevard is almost finished.

A communication was read from Mr. Wirt Smith making a report on cases filed under the Torrens land law act affecting property in the city of Glendale. On motion of Trustee Muhleman the report was received and ordered to be filed.

Trustee Muhleman brought up the matter of the furnishing by the city clerk of certificates of search for municipal liens and made a motion which was adopted, abrogating the action of the Board of Trustees of September 10, 1912, by which the city clerk was authorized to furnish such certificates, the fees to be turned over to the general fund.

PLAN FOR CONVENTION

COMMITTEES MAKING ARRANGEMENTS TO ENTERTAIN C. E. WORKERS

With the dawning of the year 1917 the young people of the Christian Endeavor societies of Glendale will begin in earnest to plan for the big convention to be held here March 16, 17 and 18. The county Christian Endeavor convention is one of the big events of the year. At the meeting last year in Whittier large delegations from the Glendale churches worked systematically to secure the 1917 convention for their home city. Already local committees are at work for it is the desire of our people that the thousand or more delegates and visitors shall be royally entertained and that every feature of the convention shall be a success. In all probability there will be no less than two thousand people visit Glendale during the three days of the convention, March 16, 17 and 18, and it is time for the people of Glendale to begin now to co-operate with the committees of the various Christian Endeavor societies to plan to entertain this vast assemblage of Christian workers.

DANCING PARTY

Harry Glazier was host at a merry dancing party Wednesday evening at his home, 900 Lomita avenue. The spirit of Christmas still lingered about the spacious rooms of the Glazier residence, as well as in the gayety of the guests. The brightly decorated Christmas tree and bright streamers made further decoration quite unnecessary.

The guests at this merry occasion were Aileen Preeman, Margaret Gregg, Rebecca Gregg, Helen Harden, Cecelia Lyon, Eloise Seaman, Nettie Werve, Lila Shea, Lillian Jennings, Catherine Lord, Ed Seay, I. S. Brown, Milton Brown, Vardaman Bailey, Owen Dibbern, Lawrence Davis, Percy McIntyre, Tom Phillips, Harry Glazier, Jamie Shea, Montgomery Coole and Merle Eckles. Mrs. Glazier and Mrs. Robinson acted as chaperones.

At a late hour an attractive luncheon was served. The guests, needless to say, departed reluctantly.

FIGHTS CONSOLIDATION

OAKLAND OBJECTS TO POLICY OF SAN FRANCISCO'S ANNEXATION

If San Francisco continues in its agitation to consolidate with the cities around San Francisco bay it will bring on a fight that probably will be carried before the next legislature.

Oakland men and women, headed by Joseph H. King, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, now are laying their plans to curb San Francisco's ambition. King voices the general sentiment as set forth in his recent statement declaring war on the consolidation scheme. He said, among other things:

"San Francisco is likely, in the natural course of development, to become the third city in California. Los Angeles will be first and Oakland second.

"This sentiment among San Franciscans for consolidation is not born of the holiday season. They have been considering this move for seven months."

Then the president of the Oakland Chamber, speaking before the Ad Club, at which the movement against consolidation was crystallized, said:

"In 1906, San Francisco's bonded indebtedness was $4,260,000. In 1916 it was $44,760,000. It has reached the limit of its bonding power. It must have more territory to tax before it can borrow any more money.

"So, if there is any power San Francisco can use to bring about consolidation, it is going to use it. San Francisco would wed us, whether we would or no, for there has grown up on the other side of San Francisco bay a feeling of doubt and I think of fear.

"The communities on the east side of the bay now have under consideration, with every prospect of success, for these communities all favor it, a plan of consolidation of their own. This will enlarge the east bay cities by twenty miles to the east, to the north and to the south.

"When this is consummated San Francisco will fall into third place, with Los Angeles in first place and Oakland in second.

"If the time comes—and it may come shortly—to decide what to do with regard to consolidation with San Francisco, I doubt much if the people will be found ready to get on the bandwagon and do this thing merely because San Francisco thinks it deserves it. No one else is of that opinion."

H. C. Capwell, newly elected vice president of the Oakland Chamber, declares that San Francisco "shall not lasso us and hog-tie us and beat out our brains."

Plans already are under way to watch every development in the state legislature to see that Oakland's interests are protected in any attempt to amend the state constitution to permit San Francisco to expand outside of its own county.

TREASURES FROM THE FRONT

Miss Ina Whitaker is in receipt of a card from a British soldier in France acknowledging the receipt of one of the Christmas hampers sent by the Glendale branch of the Red Cross Society, now known as the British Ambulance Society. The card is from Private P. Frostick, who is a brother of Mrs. George Bannock of Glendale, a member of the society. Private Frostick is a member of the Ninth Essex, Twelfth Platoon, British Expeditionary Force.

Miss Whitaker is also in receipt of a novel souvenir from the Misses Penn, now living in England but former residents of Glendale. This is a piece of wire from the first German Zeppelin brought down in England, at Cuffley, Herts, September 3, 1916. The wire was sold to the British Red Cross Society by His Majesty's war office and is being sold to help the wounded at the front. The pieces of wire are enclosed in tiny envelopes and are guaranteed to be pieces of the wrecked Zepplin.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

The British Ambulance Society of Glendale will resume its meetings os January 8 at St. Mark's Guild hall at the usual hour. The society has not been idle during the holiday vacation. Christmas donations to the amount of about $5 were received and $25 were forwarded to the Los Angeles branch for the immediate use of the society in England. This leaves a reserve in the treasury sufficient for the working expenses of the society.

WEATHER FORECAST — Clearing. Colder tonight. Saturday fair. Killing frost Saturday morning. Southeasterly winds.

RECALL BIG STORM

MUCH DAMAGE FROM CONTINUED RAINFALL THREE YEARS AGO

The rainy season being here it is in place to recall the possibility of damaging floods to Glendale. People who were residents of this city in February, 1914, have fresh in their minds the great flood of the twentieth of that month. On the night of that memorable day, after a continued rain of several days, the water broke through the banks of the Verdugo canyon wash at Howard street. The main stream flowed south on North Howard street to Doran and West on Doran to Kenwood, south on Kenwood to First street, where the stream divided, part continuing south on Kenwood and part turning west on First, leaving part of the flow to go down Louise and Maryland. However, the main flow continued to Brand, where a miniature river was formed east of the Pacific Electric road, which was then elevated above the street level. The break in the bands of the wash occurred at 10 o'clock at night and soon the business houses on Brand from the Quality Grocery on Third street to the First National Bank building on Broadway were flooded. Many of the merchants were kept busy all that night protecting their stocks of goods from damage.

During the same storm the water from Sycamore canyon wash did a great amount of damage. The water from that canyon spread before it reached the Verdugo Road near Second street and flooded many residence lots east of Adams street and north of Broadway. It finally took a course down Adams street, doing great damage on the east side of the street.

The Pacific Electric bridge at Ivanhoe was washed out, the Pacific Light & Power Company's poles were undermined by the water and on February 21 the mail was transported from and to Glendale by auto.

It is very improbable that such a storm will occur again this year as the storm of 1914 was the first one of that magnitude that had occurred in thirty years.

PASADENA'S ATTRACTIONS

The New Years day football game between the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Oregon as a feature of the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena will be an epochal battle of giants. Capt. Neil M. Mathews of Pennsylvania, who always kicks off for his team, is five feet eleven inches tall, weighs over two hundred pounds and is rated as one of the hardest fighting tackles in the east. Capt. John Beckett of Oregon is a six footer and weighs just under two hundred pounds. He is the man Oregon will depend on for the punting. Coach Pipal, of the Oregon Aggies, declares he is one of the best in the country. He will boot the ball against the Pennsylvania full back, J. Howard Berry, pentathelon champion of the American colleges. A wonderful duel is bound to result.

"Czar" Bezdek, the Oregon coach, has been banking on the psychological effect of predicting a defeat for his team. This crafty mentor believes in having his men in proper mental as well as proper physical condition. Coach Folwell of Pennsylvania takes a more optimistic view. He declares that if his men play anywhere near the game they are capable of they will defeat Oregon.

200,000 VISITORS

Two hundred thousand visitors are expected in Pasadesa on New Years day to witness the twenty-eighth annual wid-winter Tournament of Roses. Nearly every city in Southern California will be represented and colored motion pictures are to be taken of the entire pageant. There will be a separate hotel division in the parade and entries have been received from New York, Chicago, Atlantic City, N. Y., and numerous other cities. The prize in this class will be a handsome challenge trophy presented by the Palace hotel of San Francisco.

The civic section will be the finest ever seen in a parade and the ladies' clubs are to be well represented. Numerous unique entries will be seen from Japan, Manila and the Hawaiian Islands.

P. E. TO USE SALT LAKE BRIDGE

The Pacific Electric railroad has decided to abandon its bridge over the Arroyo Seco near the ostrich farm on the South Pasadena line. This is in compliance with an order from the railroad commission which has pronounced the bridge unsafe. The P. E. will use the Salt Lake tracks crossing the Arroyo.

PEACE THE BIG THEME

Peace promises to be the theme in the state department this year. Intermittent peace talk took definite form in the last few weeks since Germany proposed peace to the Allies. From now on it will be the big subject in view of the fact that this government seems destined to play a big part in whatever peace negotiations are undertaken.

Yet while the peace talk flows, there are other matters of grave moment to be settled. Some of the problems to be solved are the questions of submarine difficulties between Germany and the United States; German deportation of Belgians; English interference with our mails; English blacklisting of American firms with German interests; English embargoes affecting America.

The submarine warfare question came to a crisis last March when Germany stated that she had effected a change in her submarine methods and would continue on a milder course. However during the past few months there has been a feeling that Germany has been going as far as she could without provoking new troubles with the United States. Investigation of the sinking of the Marina, the Arabia, the Chemung and a dozen other ships seemed to indicate that Germany had violated the spirit of her pledge, at least.

Germany's deportation of Belgians provoked a rebuke from this country and the administration plans to watch this situation closely.

England's offenses have involved American commercial rights and there still remain differences over England's treatment of American mails, her blacklist and her embargoes. The state department will continue negotiations along these lines.

Conditions in Mexico present another problem to the state department, and one that is grave and enormous.

With all these problems that spell trouble, the undertone of peace heard everywhere is a paramount hope and of late a possibility.

THE OVERDOING OF BUSINESS

Trees planted too closely together will result in all the trees having a stunted growth. The wise forester will thin out trees and shrubs when they have been planted too close to one another, and thus give opportunity to the trees that remain to get sufficient nourishment to allow them to grow. It is thought best by foresters to cultivate fewer trees on a given plot of ground and have them grow large and sturdy, than to follow the plan of having on the same ground many trees which on account of lack of nourishment are stunted and slow of growth.

It is with places of business as it is with trees. Too many places of business, selling the same lines of merchandise, tend to overdo business and nobody prospers.

The trees get their nourishment from the earth and from the air. Business concerns get their support from the public. Too limited space of ground stunts trees, as do too few supporters of a business house. If a business concern exists it is because the public supports it.

THE NEXT GLENDALE POULTRY SHOW

The success of the next poultry show in Glendale will depend upon the support given to it by Glendale people. So great has been the success of the shows in this community the past three seasons that the newly elected officers of the association are planning to hold an open show in next December. In order to do this it will be necessary to offer cash premiums in addition to the specials. Undoubtedly an open show will attract exhibitors from many parts of California and even from other states. It will bring to Glendale an exchange of ideas and methods in poultry breeding that will be of inestimable value to poultrymen. The officers of the association have mapped out a plan which if backed by the people of Glendale will bring great success to the next show. Their plan is to begin active arrangements for the next show at once, ask all the people of Glendale who will to pledge a stated amount to assist financially in conducting the show. Property owners and business men who have at heart the best interests of Glendale will not be slow to take advantage of this opportunity. The poultry industry has become one of marked significance in Southern California, and the territory adjacent to Glendale is admirably adapted to the raising of poultry. The bringing together of people from other sections of the state will allow them to recognize the adaptability of this valley for poultry breeding and it will result in an increase of population to the community.

There was a time that the man who spent his time exclusively in poultry breeding was considered as not having a business of great importance, but now since eggs are selling from 40 to 60 cents per dozen and live poultry is selling from 20 to 30 cents per pound, the poultry breeder is in a class recognized by the best business institutions.

SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION CLOSES

After two years of successful operation, the San Diego Exposition comes to a close next Monday. The holding of this exposition has been the means of bringing many strangers to the state, and the impressions formed as to climatic conditions and general advantages has been so favorable that it is probable many of the visitors will return to California at a later date and select this state as their permanent place of residence.

MAKING RESOLUTIONS

The New Year is about to be ushered in and with it will come many resolutions, some to be faithfully kept and others to be carelessly broken. In making resolutions there should be a thoughtfulness on the part of those making them. A resolution, like a promise, should be made to be faithfully kept.

The man who makes a promise and breaks it, loses the confidence of his associates. The man who breaks resolutions loses confidence in his own mental strength.

Facts and Comment

Big midnight peace demonstration will be held on New Years eve in New York, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco, it has been announced by the American neutral conference committee at New York. A community chorus will ring out the present year with song, and messages are expected to be received from neutral conference committees in Europe. A manifesto "from the American people to the world in the cause of peace" will be read.

The founding of a hospital for workingmen and women to be built at San Diego as a memorial to John Paul Scripps, son of the founder, has been announced. The object of the hospital is to provide the best care and medical attention for persons of moderate means at a nominal price. The board will have the following as board of trustees: Milton A. McRae, president; F. R. Burnham, vice president; J. C. Harper, secretary and treasurer; Dr. J. Perry Lewis and Dr. Robert Pollock.

The Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association took out insurance against rain on New Years day through Lloyds of London, on Thursday. If one-quarter of an inch of rain falls in Pasadena between 9 o'clock Sunday morning and 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon Lloyds agrees to pay $23,000. Before agreeing to insure the big floral pageant Lloyds cabled for the weather statistics of Pasadena covering a period of thirty years. This is the first year the Tournament Association has obtained weather insurance, though they have endeavored to do so for several years.

THE PATH OF OPPORTUNITY

The question is often asked, "Can the young man, lacking the means to obtain a college or technical education after having passed through the grammar school, be reasonably assured of making a success if he is disposed to co-operate with such opportunities as are offered today in other directions?"

A number of prominent business men in the country, who are connected with large corporations employing hundreds of young men, answer that it is certainly possible. They say that a young man must apply himself thoroughly to the task in hand, choose a definite course of action, and confine himself to it in the main; that he must be temperate and willing to undergo, if necessary, temporary hardships.

These men are unanimous in asserting that the opportunities of the present are the greatest in the history of the world, not for any one class of young men, but for all. They point to the fact that, whereas our forefathers often had to go out and make opportunities which were limited, chances are now being forced on the young man's attention from every direction. One great business man recalls the well known fact that Abraham Lincoln had to walk miles at night after splitting rails all day, to borrow a book that he might study by the feeble rays of a tallow candle.

The great word that embodies a boy's present opportunity is vocational education. It is a department of training that has come to the rescue of the boy who has a desire to place himself most quickly and efficiently in command of definite knowledge for his definite task in earning a livelihood.

To assist in bringing the desired end about, great business concerns and corporations have been devoting much time and resource to a study of the problem, and beginning with such concerns as the New York railroad, the Pennsylvania, the Santa Fe and the Union Pacific, corporation schools have been started to supply specialized education for the young men in the service. Since the initial efforts were made, many other large enterprises have taken up the idea. The Edison Company of New York, the General Electric Company, the Westinghouse Air Brake Company and the Fore-River Shipbuilding Company are notable examples.

The New York Edison Company maintains three schools: the Technical School, which offers five courses in electrical engineering; the Commercial School, which embraces the subjects of salesmanship and the history and development of electricity; and the Accounting School, which offers courses in the theory and practice of accounting.

Because experience showed that new employes had not been sufficiently trained in the regular schools, a special preparatory school was established not long ago by the Edison Company, offering three full years of lectures, accompanied by home studies. The graduates of this school are presented with diplomas and receive degrees, the highest being indicated by a gold button marked with a capital "A." This is regarded as a trophy well worth winning. It means that not only is the wearer one of the best graduates, but that he is in direct line for promotion to higher possibilities, a higher position with the company, and a higher salary.

The state printery has turned out several thousand booklets for the state board of health entitled "Save the Babies." Copies will be mailed out by the board upon application.

LA CRESCENTA

The Sunday School entertainment was held at the church on Christmas night. The room was decorated with festoons of pepper boughs but the center of attraction was the Christmas tree surrounded by boxes of candy and bags of nuts.

The program was opened with a most enjoyable trio consisting of piano, violin and 'cello by Mrs. Lee, Mr. Northrup and Mr. McCombs. Charlotte Fay, Horace Schultz and Maxwell Hoogerzeil represented the primary department with songs and recitations. The exquisite piano solos by Mrs. Lee were especially enjoyed by the audience.

The feature of the evening was a unique service of story and song, consisting of the reading of a Christmas story, "In Quest of the King," interspersed with appropriate carols. The story was read by Miss Nell Miller and the following selections were rendered:

The Christ Child and the Star....
.....Mr. Thompson
We Three Kings.....Mr. Hopping, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Thompson.
Silent Night..... Chorus
Sing Noel ..... Chorus
Solo .....Mr. Roger Brown
Bethlehem Lullaby ..... Girls
O Little Town of Bethlehem.....
.....Mr. Thompson
Joy to the World..... Chorus

The distribution of candy and nuts closed a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Stella Messenger of Occidental College spent several days this week as the house guest of Miss Nell Miller.

Miss Nell Miller attended the Christmas banquet of her sorority in Hollywood on Saturday night.

The Camp Fire girls met at the home of the guardian, Mrs. Miller, December 29. A ceremonial meeting took place in the afternoon followed by a supper and a party in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Miller were surprised Christmas day by the unexpected arrival of cousins from Omaha, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Curtis.

Construction work began on a mammoth car plant to be erected in Torrance by the Pacific Electric Company on Saturday. The plant when completed will cost $500,000. Fourteen buildings will be put up on the 125-acre tract and provision made for further construction if more buildings are needed.

That habit of beginning the New Year with the newspaper subscription paid in advance is one of the admirable characteristics of many of the Evening News subscribers. A deserving local paper such as the Evening News never has many subscribers who are slow to pay what they owe. There is a pleasure in paying for goods worth the money.

The George S. Reitler home at 314 North Maryland avenue was the scene of a delightful Christmas celebration. The guests at dinner were Mrs. Ada Atkinson and brother, Charles Sweet, of Milford street, and Mrs. Reitler's sister, Mrs. Tummel, and family, of Seventh street. The afternoon was spent in music and dancing and in the evening a theater party was enjoyed at the Palace Grand.

The Catholic church will hold its Christmas entertainment and have its tree at Dr. Hurtt's hall on Broadway, opposite Glendale city hall, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to come and enjoy the afternoon.

Miss Frank and Miss Murphy went to Fillmore Wednesday evening, where they have opened a dancing academy, and on coming home Thursday got into quite a heavy snow storm just below Saugus. Everything was white and everyone was having great sport snow balling. They also found it very cold in Fillmore. Miss Frank received a letter this week from her mother, Mrs. E. C. Frank, who is visiting her sister in New York city, who says it is bitterly cold there and she will be very glad to get back to California.

Harry Stock of 524 South Jackson street is busy doing the stone and brick work on the new $10,000 house which Jim Jeffries, the retired pugilist, is building on his ranch near Burbank. Mr. Stock has the contract for all the stone and brick work and there is considerable of it in this fine residence. There is stone work all around the house, which is about seventy-five feet square, up as high as the window sills, to say nothing of the porches, one of which is 14x75 feet. A feature of the residence is an enormous chimney twenty-six feet high leading from a large brick and tile fireplace in the living room and from an outdoor fireplace in the court containing a barbecue oven. The fireplaces are of peculiar and beautiful design. When completed this home will be one of the most pretentious in the valley and Mr. Stock may well be proud of the handsome and substantial work which he is doing.

A snow storm which lasted for a couple of hours greeted Sunland Tuesday. The flakes came scurrying down only to melt, however, soon after it struck the ground. It lasted long enough for the youngsters to have some fun snow balling.

Mr. S. C. Kincade and family have moved into Mrs. Anderson's house and have come to be permanent residents of Sunland. Mr. Kincade is a carpenter and contractor.

Mr. David Percey, father of S. D. Percey passed away at his home on First street Wednesday morning at the age of eighty-four years. He will be buried at Forest Lawn cemetery Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Streeten died Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock at her home in Carpenteria. The cause of her death is asthma. She was seventy-three years old. She leaves a son, Harry Streeten, a granddaughter and two grandsons. Mrs. Streeten came to Sunland in 1894 and bought a home on Summit avenue, where she and her son Harry lived until about seven years ago they sold the place and moved to Carpenteria, but Mrs. Streeten could not give up Sunland so purchased a place on Central avenue, where she came every summer for a month or two. She was a member of the Ladies' Improvement Club and always took an active part in any cause for the betterment of the valley. She will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends.

It was announced last week that the Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist church would meet in a social meeting this week at the home of Mrs. L. T. Rowley. The meeting has been postponed until January 11, 1917, when each member of the society will bring a dollar they have earned and tell how they earned it. Mrs. Rowley and Mrs. A. Thomas will be hostesses.

The rain spoiled the entertainment to have been given at the church Christmas eve so the musical program will be repeated on New Years eve. Much preparation has been given this program and a full attendance is desired.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Wester have been sick with the grip at their home in Pasadena. We miss them from the church services and hope they will soon be with us again. Sunland church is fortunate in securing the services of a minister like Mr. Wester.

Alfred Blumfield and family spent Christmas in Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. J. Freeman returned Wednesday from Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nance spent Christmas at Downey.

Robert Rowley, a student at Throop college, Pasadena, is spending his vacation at home.

The Value of a Smile

The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while,
That costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile;
It's full of worth and goodness too, with hearty kindness blent,
It's worth a million dollars and does not cost a cent.

INTOXICANTS IN COLORADO

(By United Press)

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 29.—One quart of whisky and a half case of beer will be the total amount of intoxicants permitted a family in Colorado for one month's consumption if the dry forces of the state succeed in putting through a proposed amendment to the prohibition law at the coming session of the state legislature. A permit to import intoxicants would have to be obtained from the county clerk and placed on record, under the proposed amendment. Under the present law, unlimited quantities of liquor may be imported for personal use.

A POINTER ON ADVERTISING

The advertising manager of one of the biggest mail order houses in the country, in a talk before members of an advertising club recently, gave some interesting information on how they secured much of their business. He said:

"We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the country newspapers from all over the country. There is not a newspaper of any consequence in our trade territory that our bureau does not get. This bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants are not advertising in the local paper, we immediately flood that territory with our literature. It always brings results in excess of the same effort put forth in territory where local merchants patronize their local paper.—The Publishers' Auxiliary.

BETTER ARCHITECTURE

A medal of honor will be presented each year to the architect adjudged to have executed the most notable current architectural achievement in Southern California, if a plan outlined to the Southern California Chapter of the American Institute of Architects at the December meeting, held at the Jonathan Club last Tuesday evening, is adopted. Architect Henry F. Withey of the committee on public information submitted the proposition, which was received with favor and the committee was instructed to work out a plan in detail for putting it into effect. Such a medal has been given in New York city each year since 1905 and the plan of awarding the medal there will probably be followed. It is believed that the giving of a medal for the best architectural work executed each year will not only stimulate architects to better efforts but will also serve to increase the public interest in architectural work.

The question of better architecture for small buildings was discussed in connection with a report submitted by Architect Elmer Grey of the A. I. A. sub-committee on education that a competition was being held under the auspices of the Seattle Chapter of the Institute to select plans for a residence of moderate cost to be published by the House Beautiful. In connection with this report, President J. E. Allison stated that the advisability of sanctioning competitions of this nature had been discussed at the Institute convention held recently at Minneapolis and the delegates generally had approved efforts to improve the architecture of small houses. Such work was not considered profitable from a pecuniary standpoint by the architects, but they believed the architectural standard for it should be raised as it would tend to improve the public taste for good architecture. Some of the architects at the convention went so far as to advocate the designing of small houses by architects and giving the plans free of cost to the owner on condition that he would follow the design strictly.

IT COSTS MONEY TO VIOLATE FOOD LAWS

Besides destroying over a million pounds of spoiled foodstuffs during the last fiscal year, the Bureau of Foods and Drugs of the California State Board of Health, through successful prosecution of violators of the food and drug laws, was responsible for the collection of over $6000 in fines from such offenders. During the preceding year the total amount of such fines was but $170. Four hundred and sixty-one cases were referred to district attorneys for prosecution, as against thirty cases referred during the preceding year. Forty-two per cent more illegal samples were collected by the food inspectors than during the previous year.

These activities have a far reaching effect upon the general health of California. By means of the removal of unfit food from the markets, thus preventing their consumption, direct results are obtained. By prosecuting offenders, the repetition of the violation is prevented insuring better food supplies at future times.

UNIQUE ENTRIES AT PASADENA

The Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena will have some very unique entries on New Years day. From Manila will come a native hut, especially shipped across the Pacific. The old king, Kanehaneha, of the Hawaiian Islands, will be seen standing on the Honolulu float beneath a floral canopy where he will appraise his dancing girls whilst other maidens in costume will ride beside the float on horses. A feature story, "The Garden of Allah," will be made by the society set of Pasadena. It will include ten wonderfully decorated floats specially designed by Howell Brown, the Tournament of Roses float expert.

The football game between University of Pennsylvania and University of Oregon in the afternoon will attract a big crowd, and in the evening the brilliant social event, the Roses ball, at Hotel Maryland, for which three thousand five hundred invitations have been issued, will be a fitting termination to a day long to be remembered by those who have been fortunate enough in taking part in the festivities.
